

New Travis County Local Administrative Judge

The Honorable Lora J. Livingston
261st Judicial District Court

At the August 30, 2011, meeting of the civil and criminal district judges, the Honorable Lora J. Livingston was unanimously elected as the new Travis County Local Administrative Judge effective September 2011.

The former Local Administrative Judge, the Honorable John K. Dietz, will continue to oversee the judicial duties relating to technology and the new civil and family courthouse project. Judge Dietz was the Local Administrative Judge for the past 10 years and, among other accomplishments, was instrumental in bringing many innovative technology projects to the civil courts including the Courts Technology Team, the Document Management System (DMS), e-Filing, e-Courtrooms, e-Docket and Civil Courts Online.
